

Prepare...

“Son, I need to talk to you about what will happen with my financial affairs when I’m gone.”

These words may be some of the most difficult words you ever have to utter to your children, and for your children they may be the most difficult to hear. Nevertheless, you owe it to your family to ensure that no misunderstandings arise over your estate. The reality is “You can’t take it with you.”

Where will your money go? Your heirs? Other charities? Have you considered including the church in your will?

Why make a gift to the church? It may be to say “thanks” to God for many blessings. You may have few heirs. You may have heirs that no longer need more. To honour the memory of someone special. Biblical reasons. Concern for future generations. Passion for a particular ministry. You’ve always given to the church, so why stop now.

To whom might you give? It may be to your congregation, synod or national church. To seminaries, church camps or other ministries.

How do you give and how much? It’s a personal decision – a dollar amount, RRSPs, a percentage, tithe the estate, property, stocks, insurance etc.

To receive helpful information when planning your will, contact your financial advisor or accountant and a lawyer who specializes in wills.

Planned gifts give people one last chance to contribute.

Prepare...

“Son, I need to talk to you about what will happen with my financial affairs when I’m gone.”

These words may be some of the most difficult words you ever have to utter to your children, and for your children they may be the most difficult to hear. Nevertheless, you owe it to your family to ensure that no misunderstandings arise over your estate. The reality is “You can’t take it with you.”

Where will your money go? Your heirs? Other charities? Have you considered including the church in your will?

Why make a gift to the church? It may be to say “thanks” to God for many blessings. You may have few heirs. You may have heirs that no longer need more. To honour the memory of someone special. Biblical reasons. Concern for future generations. Passion for a particular ministry. You’ve always given to the church, so why stop now.

To whom might you give? It may be to your congregation, synod or national church. To seminaries, church camps or other ministries.

How do you give and how much? It’s a personal decision – a dollar amount, RRSPs, a percentage, tithe the estate, property, stocks, insurance etc.

To receive helpful information when planning your will, contact your financial advisor or accountant and a lawyer who specializes in wills.

Planned gifts give people one last chance to contribute.

Prepare...

“Son, I need to talk to you about what will happen with my financial affairs when I’m gone.”

These words may be some of the most difficult words you ever have to utter to your children, and for your children they may be the most difficult to hear. Nevertheless, you owe it to your family to ensure that no misunderstandings arise over your estate. The reality is “You can’t take it with you.”

Where will your money go? Your heirs? Other charities? Have you considered including the church in your will?

Why make a gift to the church? It may be to say “thanks” to God for many blessings. You may have few heirs. You may have heirs that no longer need more. To honour the memory of someone special. Biblical reasons. Concern for future generations. Passion for a particular ministry. You’ve always given to the church, so why stop now.

To whom might you give? It may be to your congregation, synod or national church. To seminaries, church camps or other ministries.

How do you give and how much? It’s a personal decision – a dollar amount, RRSPs, a percentage, tithe the estate, property, stocks, insurance etc.

To receive helpful information when planning your will, contact your financial advisor or accountant and a lawyer who specializes in wills.

Planned gifts give people one last chance to contribute.